

College of Operating Department Practitioners

Driving Quality – Creating the Future

Practice, patients and the profession

CODP 2009 Conference programme

8-9 May 2009 – Copthorne Hotel, Merry Hill, Dudley

This year's conference has been developed around the changes that are occurring in the NHS and how they will impact on the practitioner and the team. It focuses on all areas of improvement and development around safety, quality and teams.

The College is also mindful that the second cycle of the CPD activity has begun and so we have ensured that the information provided within this conference's educational programme can be a catalyst to developing your practice and will contribute to your CPD.

However, the education programme is just one benefit of attending the conference. Sharing practice and developments in a professional forum enables practitioners to explore approaches that can benefit their organisation. We invite you to share your successes and your concerns with your professional body – the College – which is the only body whose focus is on the scope, standards, development and future of operating department practitioners.

Friday, 8 May 2009

11.00 – 12.30 Registration (lunch served from 11.30 – 12.30)

Practitioners will be on the CODP stand (all day) to advise on CPD, mentor standards, advanced roles, clinical practice, work-related issues.

12.40 Opening remarks and welcome
Bill Kilvington
President
College of Operating Department Practitioners

Joanne Holland
Chief Executive Officer
College of Operating Department Practitioners

Helen Booth
Chair of the Professional Council
College of Operating Department Practitioners

13.00 Keynote speech – Why each practitioner should be involved in driving change and creating the future
Speaker TBC

13.25 Student fitness to practice – safeguarding professional standards
Steve Wordsworth
Health Professions Council

The following sessions are focused on key messages related to safety. The sessions will inform the practitioner of current developments and the work that is being developed within this area and the impact it will have on the team.

13.45 Getting the message about safety to consultants who don't want to know
Anthony E B Giddings MD FRCS FRCS Ed
Surgical adviser to the National Clinical Advisory Team of the NHS
Member of the campaign team of the NPSA
External adviser to the Healthcare Commission and to the Parliamentary Health Committee

14.15 NPSA projects – impact on practice with surgery and anaesthesia
Joan Russell
Head of Anaesthesia and Surgery Clinical Team
National Patient Safety Association

15.00 – 15.30 Tea and exhibition

The role of leadership in clinical practice can inform and raise standards. The following sessions will demonstrate how, through leadership, change has been implemented and contributed to patient outcomes and improvement in practice.

15.30 Reducing infection within orthopaedics
Philip Roberts
Consultant Orthopaedic Surgeon
University Hospital of North Staffordshire

16.00 The productive operating theatre
Hugh Rogers MB BChir FRCS
Senior Associate
NHS Institute for Innovation & Improvement
Consultant Urologist, West Middlesex Hospital

The following sessions will focus on changes within the profession and the impact this will have on the clinical area and ODPs' future scope of practice.

16.30 Educational forum
■ ODPs moving to a graduate profession – rationale paper
Helen Booth
Chair of the Professional Council
College of Operating Department Practitioners

■ New mentorship standards
Hannah Abbott BSc (Hons)
Course Leader DipHE ODP Programme
University Campus Suffolk

■ Individual practitioner paper – Newly registered ODPs: what support do they receive?
Claire Lewsey MSc, BN, RGN, PGCert
Programme Leader
Dip(HE) in Operating Department Practice
Glasgow Caledonian University

17.30 Professional forum and open debate with the Professional Council
Helen Booth
Chair of the Professional Council
College of Operating Department Practitioners

17.50 – 18.45 Wine reception in exhibition

19.30 Dinner and evening entertainment

Workshops
Delegates choose/sign up for workshops on the day
■ Taster session of the emergency and trauma care study day
■ Supporting difficult airways workshop
■ Laparoscopic workshop
■ Role of simulation in the education and training of ODPs

College of Operating Department Practitioners Driving Quality – Creating the Future

Practice, patients and the profession

CODP 2009 Conference programme

8-9 May 2009 – Cophthorne Hotel, Merry Hill, Dudley

Saturday, 9 May 2009

Practitioners will be on the CODP stand (all day) to advise on CPD, mentor standards, advanced roles, clinical practice, work-related issues

The focus for the first session is relevant to all practitioners in the acute setting. Reflection and rehearsals of skills are essential because reliance on experiential learning alone is often detrimental to patient outcomes.

The afternoon session will explore the theatre team, how it can drive quality and the role of the ODP in creating the future. These will be taster sessions that should stimulate discussion on how those participating view the developing team of the future. These sessions are particularly relevant to team leaders, managers, service managers and educators.

09.00 Pre-hospital haemorrhage control
Dr Mark Forrest
Consultant in Anaesthetics & Critical Care
Medical Director of Cheshire Fire & Rescue Service
Medical Director of ATACC

09.45 Clinical forum – emergency and trauma care, skills and knowledge
■ Case studies
Paul Johnson
Deputy EPLD, Major Incident Planning Group
Southampton Universities Hospitals NHS Trust

10.00 Pharmacology – developing knowledge and accountability
■ Pain management in post-op care
Paula J Strong PG Dip (Med Ed) BSc (Hons) RN FHEA
Lecturer, Department of Operating Department Practice, School of Healthcare Studies
Cardiff University

10.30 – 11.00 Coffee and exhibition

The following session will look at national developments and research that have a direct impact on clinical practice. The sessions have been designed to inform and show how these will apply to an individual's role and responsibilities, and the drive to safe, efficient and quality practice.

11.00 Child protection – what do you need to know for your practice
Lisa Nobes
Lecturer Child Health
University Campus Suffolk

11.30 Checklists and teamwork – making surgery safer
Bill Kilvington
President
College of Operating Department Practitioners

12.00 Cell salvage developments – implications for practice
Danny McGee
Specialist Practitioner in Operating Theatre Blood Conservation, Anaesthetics and Theatres Department
Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh

12.30 – 14.00 Lunch and exhibition (exhibition closes)

14.00 Creating the future teams across the pre-, peri, and post-operative clinical environment
Amanda Molloy
Senior Consultant
Unipart Expert Practices

14.30 Changing attitudes and behaviour in the operating theatre
Amanda Molloy
Senior Consultant
Unipart Expert Practices

Tracey Cottam
Senior Consultant
Unipart Expert Practices

15.30 Professional development- whose responsibility is it?
■ CODP developing tools to help the professional and how this can drive quality in an organisation
Helen Booth
Chair of the Professional Council
College of Operating Department Practitioners

16.00 Close of conference
Bill Kilvington
President
College of Operating Department Practitioners

Helen Booth
Chair of the Professional Council
College of Operating Department Practitioners

16.15 – 16.45 Tea

Workshops Delegates choose/sign up for workshops on the day
■ Taster session of the emergency and trauma care study day
■ Supporting difficult airways workshop
■ Laparoscopic workshop
■ Planning education and experience for practitioners' 'return to practice'
■ CPD workshop

CODP reserves the right to amend items – for up-to-the-minute conference details, please visit our website: www.codp.org.uk